UNDER FIRE

On January 4th, 2012 Lieutenant Hutchinson was involved in a thirteen-minute gun battle after his narcotics team was ambushed while serving a knock and announce search warrant on a small marijuana grow house. During the gunfight, Lieutenant Hutchinson was shot five times while rescuing injured officers from the home. Lieutenant Hutchinson will provide a debrief of the search warrant, a detailed account of the gunfight, lessons learned in the aftermath, as well as the mindset that helped him survive the near fatal gunshot wounds and continue to fight until all of his team had been pulled from the home.

Instructor:

Lieutenant Nate Hutchinson has been a law enforcement officer with the Weber County Sheriff's Office since 2000. During his career, Lieutenant Hutchinson has worked as a patrol deputy, a field trainer, a community resource officer, a major crimes detective investigating homicides, robberies and major sex crimes, the lead negotiator for the Weber County Metro SWAT Team, a patrol sergeant, the commander of the Second District Court system, the commander of the Professional Standards and Training Bureau, Public Information Officer, Internal Affairs Commander and is currently the Investigations Bureau Commander.

Prior to his promotion to Lieutenant, Lieutenant Hutchinson was a sergeant assigned to the Weber Morgan Narcotics Strike Force for five years. He supervised the long term undercover narcotics investigation team, as well as worked undercover himself. On January 4th 2012, then Sergeant Hutchinson along with other members of the Weber Morgan Narcotic Strike Force served a knock and announce search warrant on a small marijuana grow house. During the execution of the warrant the team was ambushed by the grow operator. A thirteen-minute gun fight ensued in which six members of the team were struck by gunfire, with one member, Agent Jared Francom, suffering fatal wounds. During the gunfight, Sergeant Hutchinson entered the home under fire on three separate occasions in order to drag wounded officers out of the home. During each entry into the home, Sergeant Hutchinson was shot, enduring a total of five gunshot wounds. Sergeant Hutchinson spent the better part of a year recovering from his wounds in order to return and continue his work as a member of the Weber Morgan Narcotics Strike Force. After an additional two years at the Strike Force, Sergeant Hutchinson was promoted to Lieutenant, which ended his time working narcotics.

Lieutenant Hutchinson is one of the most decorated law enforcement officers in the United States. Lieutenant Hutchinson is a recipient of the nation's highest award for valor, The United States Presidential Medal of Valor, as well as the United States Congressional Badge of Bravery. Lieutenant Hutchinson was the Utah Narcotics officer of the year in 2012, The National Law Enforcement Officer of the month in March 2013, The International Chiefs of Police Association officer of the year, as well as being the recipient of numerous state and local commendations.

Course Topics:

No day is routine

Press the fight

Mindset of survival

Prepare yourself for the fight as well as the aftermath

The Utah Gang Investigators Association is excited to bring the premier narcotics investigations class for Corrections to our 2019 conference, to register for this class go to www.UTGIA.org

- This class will go over how corrections investigators conduct investigations on gang members smuggling narcotics into jails and prisons including suboxone, heroin, and methamphetamine.
- We will discuss the different ways they smuggle the narcotics into the facilities and how these drugs are distributed and ingested and how rival gangs will work together in these cases.
- We will also provide detailed case studies on narcotics smuggling and show how to conduct a successful controlled delivery of narcotics in a correctional facility and how these cases tie into crimes committed on the streets.
